

Opinion

by Stephanie Yeagle

View Author Profile

syeagle@ncronline.org

Follow on Twitter at @ncrSLY

Join the Conversation

September 11, 2018

Share on FacebookShare on TwitterEmail to a friendPrint

Here's what's new at NCRonline.org today:

Coptic abbot's murder points to strains over ecumenism in Egypt

Seventeen years after 9/11, Muslims are still 'presumed guilty'

Justice Action Bulletin: Interfaith service at border; Sanctuary helps families

Column: We all are 'priests': Laypeople, not ordained, hold church's power

Column: I got the whole wide world in my hands

Council of Cardinals expresses 'full solidarity' with pope

Clear response to abuse crisis is urgently needed, Cardinal O'Malley says

Column: Why the Catholic Church can't move on from the sex abuse crisis

At Global Sisters Report:

Amid abuse crisis, sisters call for healing, changes to church structure

Communities sound off on clergy sex abuse crisis

Column: Citizenship and religious vows

Q & A with Sr. Jane Wakahiu on the Conrad N. Hilton Foundation's new five-year strategy

Advertisement

In other news around the web:

A Bishop Says The Church Will Cooperate With Vermont Investigators After BuzzFeed News' Investigation Of Abuse At A Catholic Orphanage

Group: Officials destroying crosses, burning bibles in China

Pope tells bishops to fight abuse, culture behind it

Indian Catholic nuns protest against bishop accused of rape

Perspective: I Found Community In The Catholic Church. Now I Feel Betrayed.

Virgin Mary With Turquoise Hair? Church Statues Get an Eye-Popping Paint Job