

Opinion

by Stephanie Yeagle

View Author Profile

syeagle@ncronline.org

Follow on Twitter at @ncrSLY

Join the Conversation

October 16, 2018

Share on FacebookShare on TwitterEmail to a friendPrint

Here's what's new at NCRonline.org today:

Eastern Europe's Catholics steer through inter-Orthodox feud

Column: St. Óscar Romero: witness to God's love in the face of corruption

Column: My immediate reaction was to back down

ICYMI: Cupich says bishops must cede authority, allow lay oversight of accusations

Ukrainian archeparchy pledges cooperation with Pennsylvania grand jury

Don't miss these stories at Global Sisters Report:

In Cincinnati, combatting daily forms of racism

Bishops, sisters discuss declining numbers of US women religious

Q & A with Sr. Anna Ngo Thi Phuc, serving leprosy patients in Vietnam

Column: The power of influence

In other news around the web:

Episcopal Church confronts past role in sexual exploitation

Ukraine Church Ruling Challenges Putin's Newly Religious Russia

Advertisement

Chinese official says 'sinicization' of religion in Xinjiang must go on

Liberals split over Labor bid to end religious schools' ability to sack gay teachers

'I love him so much I can hardly explain it': Evangelical leaders praise Trump after pastor's release

It's Getting Harder to Talk About God

Does a church for sale in Abilene have a prayer?