

Opinion

by Teresa Malcolm

View Author Profile

Join the Conversation

January 16, 2020

Share on FacebookShare on TwitterEmail to a friendPrint

Our team of copy editors reads and posts most of what you see on the websites for National Catholic Reporter, Global Sisters Report and EarthBeat. The Copy Desk Daily highlights recommended news and opinion articles that have crossed our desks on their way to you.

Part 2 of Heidi Schlumpf's investigative look into Matthew Kelly's enterprises examines how his companies do business with the nonprofit he founded. (You can catch up on Part 1 here.)

Sisters' compassion home helps educate and heal children in Bangladesh.

The Catechist Sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, Queen of Angels have run the center called Snehahir for nearly three decades, helping children with disabilities get a solid start in life. GSR has the story from Rajshahi, Bangladesh.

You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free. Really? It's hard to find certainty when our social climate is like living in a political fun house, says Sr. Joan Chittister.

Foreign travel can broaden your perspective, but you can also get a broader perspective much closer to home. Young Voices columnist Mark Piper suggests some ways to do that, to take a trip to visit the other neighbors.

John Gehring of Faith in Public Life writes that Catholics in the United States can and should play a role in reclaiming religious freedom from the culture wars.

ICYMI: There was more news out of Rome yesterday as Pope Francis appoints first woman to managerial role at Vatican's Secretariat of State.

Advertisement

*Want to keep updated with the latest news from the National Catholic Reporter?
Sign up here for news updates by email — including one that will send you Copy
Desk Daily every Monday through Friday.*